Dear friends,

Thank you for all you have done to make the last year one of the most extraordinary in our history. In 2014, the effort and energy that went into creating the new Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital and Eskenazi Health campus continued to send a powerful message to our community. We experienced the very dream you helped us cast, and it was as fulfilling as it was inspiring. We could not be more grateful.

In 2014, the modern health care technology and welcoming space we envisioned through blueprints and computer renderings came to life with physicians, nurses and staff engaging in lifesaving and life changing care. The music and art we imagined in corridors, patient rooms and great open spaces came to life. Concerts, musical performances and works of art now considered among the finest in American hospitals filled the spaces of Eskenazi Health and continue to fill the hearts and imaginations of our patients, staff, physicians and community. The architecture we saw rising from the earth for four years began to fulfill its true role: guiding patients and staff, and creating and supporting journeys to better health. The gardens and natural environments saw their first flowers and produce, providing nourishment for the body, mind and spirit.

Over the last year, we brought to a close the Eskenazi Health Campaign, which was a truly remarkable reflection of what our community can achieve when we come together. The campaign produced one of the largest single contributions ever to a public hospital, the largest single contribution ever by a financial institution in the state of Indiana, and one of the largest employee-giving campaigns in health care. As moving as the milestones were, we are equally inspired by the vastness of the campaign — more than 3,500 contributors — and by the enthusiasm we continue to see as we look beyond building a new hospital, into new challenges and opportunities to improve the health of our community.

Our gratitude for your support runs through the new Eskenazi Health campus. And as we brought the year 2014 to a close, we also began diligent work to formulate a strategic vision for the future of the Eskenazi Health Foundation, one that we will be sharing with you in 2015 and beyond.

We will forever be grateful to you and look forward to having an even greater impact on health care in Central Indiana in the years to come.

Gratefully,

2014 Financial Update

The past year marked the culmination of the Eskenazi Health Campaign, an extraordinary collective contribution led by our foremost supporters, Sidney and Lois Eskenazi, and many more across the philanthropic community. We are deeply grateful for the leadership Sidney and Lois delivered, and for the wave of support that followed.

JULY 1, 2009 - DECEMBER 31, 2014
A Year of Extraordinary Progress

For Eskenazi Health and Eskenazi Health Foundation supporters, 2014 was the year all of our dreams became a living, breathing reality. The Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital and Eskenazi Health campus’ first full year of operation brought remarkable achievements in quality care for our patients and community. It also featured the magnificent art, music and gardens we envisioned, which elicited community connectedness and engagement. And as we embraced the realization of this dream and saw the impact of your support on the health of our community, it inspired us to cast our vision for the future with even more ambition.

MODERN AND EFFICIENT MEDICAL FACILITIES EMPOWERED US TO ACHIEVE MORE

The foremost purpose of the Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital and Eskenazi Health campus is to care for patients. In 2014, we saw Eskenazi Health fulfill its mission, delivering on its promise to be a facility that works with physicians, nurses, mental health and social services to achieve more.

The integration of mental health care and well-being, embodied by the Kathi & Bob Postlethwait Mental Health Recovery Center, brought our patients a new approach and level of service, led by Margie Payne, RN, CNS, MSN, chief executive officer of Eskenazi Health Midtown Community Mental Health, whose efforts were recognized by the National Alliance on Mental Illness.

The Michael & Susan Smith Emergency Department and Smith Level I Shock Trauma Center came to life, leading not only to advances in medical care, but also fostering knowledge and education. Last year, it served as host of the 21st Annual Trauma & Surgical Critical Care Symposium. Cherri Hobgood, M.D., chair of emergency medicine for the IU School of Medicine and member of the Eskenazi Health Foundation Board of Directors, along with Charles Miramonti, M.D., medical director of the Michael and Susan Smith Emergency Department and chief of Indianapolis Emergency Medical Services, managed one of the busiest emergency departments in the state while simultaneously focusing on emergency medicine and medical education.

Eskenazi Health’s nursing staff, led by chief nursing officer Lee Ann Blue, RN, MSN, thrived in the new facilities, using the latest technologies to best serve patients while also preventing injury to themselves with the new patient lifts in each room. Physicians also prospered. Malaz Boustani, M.D., propelled Eskenazi Health’s already ambitious and exciting efforts in Alzheimer’s disease and dementia by casting a new vision for further excellence in brain care. And in the Richard M. Fairbanks Burn Center, Rajiv Sood, M.D., led efforts to pioneer a remarkable new laser skin technology that mitigates the redness of burn scarring, the first in the Midwest and third in the nation to undertake this endeavor. This amazing technology was made possible through the generosity of Sandy Eskenazi.
ART, MUSIC AND NATURAL BEAUTY ENRICHED OUR LIVES AND THOSE OF OUR PATIENTS AND COMMUNITY

In 2014, we welcomed the fruits of the gardens at Eskenazi Health planned by David Rubin, LAND COLLECTIVE, Olin Studios, and other local landscape architecture firms. The small sketches created by a diverse group of local and national artists took shape as fully fledged installations throughout Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital and Eskenazi Health campus. And the sweet notes of the music programs and performances resounded throughout the hospital.

Natural beauty, art and music have scientifically indicated positive effects on the health outcomes of patients. In 2014, these benefits manifested in The Sky Farm, where 2,200 pounds of produce were harvested and shared with patients, physicians and staff.

In the summer of 2014, we held a grand opening for The Commonground at Eskenazi Health, a space made possible by your support. The Commonground, an open outdoor plaza at the main entrance to Eskenazi Health, has developed into a community of culture and connectedness. Conceived and designed by leading firms LAND COLLECTIVE, OLIN Studio and Diller Scofidio + Renfro (DS+R), The Commonground at Eskenazi Health opened with music, healthy foods and cultural experiences. Construction of The Commonground was fully supported by philanthropy, including gifts from Frank and Katrina Basile, the Griffith Family Foundation, the Central Indiana Community Foundation (CICF), St. Margaret’s Hospital Guild, Myrta Pulliam, the Kelcy M. Whitman Family Fund, a fund of Legacy Fund and others.

In 2014, the Marianne Tobias Music Program brought numerous musical experiences to Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital. In the spring, the first major performance featured Time for Three, artists in residence at the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. Jazz pianist Sullivan Foster performed, along with other finalists, through a partnership with the American Pianists Association. The concert grand piano Marianne Williams Tobias provided is often played by patients, physicians, staff, students and visitors, including a moving performance by Oscar Smith, whose mournful tribute to his lost brother drew a crowd of hundreds.

The first full year of operation for the Eskenazi Health campus brought together medical excellence and integrated, comprehensive care and wellness programs for our community.
THE FACILITIES AND PROGRAMS DREW PRAISE AND RECOGNITION FROM ACROSS THE COUNTRY

The deepest fulfillment of 2014 came in seeing improvements to the health of patients and our community. Eskenazi Health’s commitment to care proved so remarkable that outside groups recognized it with numerous awards and honors.

The Coalition of Architectural Design named the 12,000-square-foot art on the Eskenazi Health parking garage as the best piece of art at any hospital in America. “May/September” by artist Rob Ley is the largest outdoor art form in Indiana. Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital was featured in Healthcare Design and Landscape Architecture magazines. The Arts Council of Indianapolis honored Eskenazi Health with its ARTI Award for the artful impact of its new campus and The Commonground; and the Indy Chamber presented Eskenazi Health with the Monumental Award for architectural excellence and community mindedness, while also recognizing Eskenazi Health Community Health Center West 38th Street.
ESKENAZI HEALTH AND ITS LEADERS WERE ALSO HONORED:

• Eskenazi Health was named Top Performer on key quality measures by The Joint Commission.

• The Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital and Eskenazi Health campus was honored by Top Notch of Indiana with the Top Notch Legacy Project Award.

• Eskenazi Health was the recipient of the 2014 Employer Award during the Access and Inclusion Awards Ceremony on July 30 by the Mayor’s Advisory Council on Disability for its Eskenazi Health Initiative for Empowerment and Economic Independence program, a paid internship program for college students with disabilities aimed at preparing them for careers in diverse fields.

• Adam Frank’s Arbor, a permanent art installation inside the new Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital, was selected as a 2014 Public Art Network (PAN) Year in Review award recipient, the highest recognition for public art in the United States.

• Virgina Caine, M.D., director of the Marion County Public Health Department, was named a 2014 Torchbearer by the Indiana Commission for Women.

• Noll Campbell, PharmD, Eskenazi Health clinical pharmacist specialist in geriatrics, was named a 2014 Hulman Award Individual Honoree for excellence in research and program development in geriatrics and gerontology. The awards were presented on Oct. 29 by the Indiana Public Health Association, Inc.

• Lisa Harris, M.D., chief executive officer at Eskenazi Health, was named a 2014 Torchbearer by the Indiana Commission for Women and was named a 2014 Touchstone Award winner by Girls Inc. Indianapolis for her community achievement and leadership.

• Jennifer Kitchens, MSN, RN, ACNS, BC, CVRN, a clinical nurse specialist (CNS) at Eskenazi Health, was awarded the National Association of Clinical Nurse Specialists (NACNS) Clinical Nurse Specialist Preceptor of the Year Award.

• Palmer MacKie, M.D., director of the Eskenazi Health Integrative Pain Program, received an Indiana Public Health Achievement Award in the Preventative Medicine category for his efforts in reducing prescription pain medication abuse and was recognized with a 2014 Indianapolis Coalition for Patient Safety (ICPS) Hero Award for his efforts in enhancing patient safety in Indianapolis hospitals.

• Margie Payne, RN, MSN, CNS, chief executive officer for Eskenazi Health Midtown Community Mental Health and vice president of mental health operations at Eskenazi Health, was honored as one of the Indiana University School of Nursing’s Top 100 Alumni. Payne was presented with her award during the IU School of Nursing’s 100th Anniversary Celebration Weekend in June.
